What Does Hicks Say?

That is the first question that suggests itself when we are discussing the weather. Everybody is interested in the remarkable writings of this noted "Storm Prophet." To be informed on future weather, or to take a course in arctic or meteorologic science you should have

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Bethel Reformed Sunday School celebrated its 50th anniversary. A large crowd was present.

Mrs. Moses Montsinger, whose mind became temporarily deranged Christmas, cut her throat and came very near bleeding to death before medical aid was secured. The patient was carried to the Junior Order Hospital where she has been getting along very well, considering her age. It was a deplorable occurrence and the sympathy of all for the poor, old lady was expressed.

Married—Wednesday, Dec. 27th, Miss Cora B. Galliher to E. Hudson Hopkins. They will reside at Danville, the home town of the groom. The bride for several years was manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., this city, and has many friends who will wish her well in her new relations.

The New York Cafe opened for business last week in the Stanton building on North Main street, formerly occupied by Roger's Ice Cream parlors. The cafe presents a very neat and attractive appearance. The linen is clean and everything sanitary; and the bill of fare unsurpassed and with all the prices are reasonable. This is something that High Point has long needed and we trust the business will be a success.

Mr. J. D. Fulmer and daughter, Miss Beulah, of Elizabeth City, spent the holidays with the family of Mr. W. B. Griffin on East Washington street, Mr. Fulmer leaving for home Friday and Miss Fulmer remaining over this week.

Christmas exercises at the churches were well attended and all the children received their treats. Interesting exercises were held. The superintendents of the various Sunday Schools were remembered by the scholars in substantial presents. The holiday spirit of good cheer and fellowship prevailed.

The new Harris building on East Washington street is nearing completion. Younts & Craven occupy one of the store rooms. Mr. Mally Gray will open a grocery store in the other. The third floor has been rented to the Masons and the second floor will be used for offices. Mr. Delos E. Hammer has two rooms on second floor for his offices.

The T. P. A.'s held their annual banquet the evening of Dec. 27th at the Elwood. The principal speaker was Hon. R. A. Broyles, of Atlanta, who addressed the large number present.

Mr. C. C. Edwards has opened the Edwards Business College over the Blair-Hoskins Store, formerly the High Point Business College location.

The Sherrad block of stores will soon be ready for occupancy. An ideal location for the merchant, offices and quarters for the Industrial Club, just in the rear of High Point's splendid postoffice building.

Get a Hick's Almanac FREE at THE REVIEW office, by simply paying one year in advance. Open to both old and new subscribers. Come quick before they are all gone.

Mrs. J. E. Kirkman and daughter Avery have returned home after spending several months at the North in the interest of Miss Kirkman's health.

Mr. J. T. Ryan, for some time with the C. C. & O. railroad as soliciting agent, has been elected Secretary of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association, succeeding C. J. Field.

Died, Sunday near Pleasant Grove Mrs. Wesley Cecil in her 80th year, paralysis being the cause of death. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. C. A. Cecil of this city.

Just believe business is going to be good this year, anyway. Dispel doubts and it will help business. Be an optimist, not a pessimist.

Mrs. Guzzler—"John, I don't see how you can drink so much." Mr. Guzzler—"There are times, my dear, when even I myself am filled with wonder at my capacity."

It looks like China is determined to have a republic and here's hoping that she may get it. The eyes of the celestial has been opened and the pig tail is being discarded. Surely this is an age of progress.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Although not our idol yet the ablest man in America today (by common consent) will make one of his famous speeches in Raleigh Saturday night at the new auditorium. It will equal his world-applauded "Crown of Thorns and Cross of Gold" speech so it is said. If you have never heard the "Peerless One" you should avail yourself of this opportunity.

WATCHMEN FIGHT

Sunday night the watchman at the Southern Car Company engaged in a quarrel with another watchman, both of whom received wounds on the head. The man on the job Sunday night was cut pretty badly in the head due to the other watchman breaking a lantern over his top piece. The one not on duty wore a knot on his head on account of the fight. Both parties submitted to an affray and were fined $2.50 and costs by the Recorder. It was first reported that the watchman had been waylaid.

Our Best Xmas Present

The editor received very touching letters from two little girls whose hearts were made glad Xmas through special gifts. They come from the hearts of innocent childhood, hearts that had been made happy and to feel that even the least of them had not been forgotten. They are prized more by the editor, children, than gold and silver, for after all the possession of money is not what brings real happiness without it is used for a good purpose.

A LITTLE SHOP TALK

The Review prides itself on its large subscription list and advertising patronage, carrying more paid advertising than any paper ever published in High Point which speaks volumes for the business getting qualities of our paper for which we are duly thankful to our patrons. Both subscription and advertising patronage increases substantially all along and both are essential to every papers success. The subscription price of all papers is a mere trifle compared to the cost of producing it, so the main revenue comes from the advertising department.

Really the whole paper is "news." Advertising is news to buyer and everybody is more or less a buyer because they have to wear clothes and eat food and they profit by knowing where to get the most for the least money. A merchants ad is a business talk and close readers save many times the price of a paper in the run of a year.

We give our readers from 30 to 35 columns of reading matter each week, far more than any other paper in this territory. No matter how many ads we carry, we never cut down the amount of reading matter which embraces all classes of news, suitable for the little folks, grown ups, farmers, laborers, boys and girls, etc.

Brookins First Man to Carry Mail by Aeroplane in State

Wilmington, Jan. 3.—Walter R. Brookins made four flights in his Wright aeroplane at Highwood park this afternoon before 1,500 spectators. A feature of the afternoon was the carrying of United States mail pouch filled with postcards and letters and delivered to a representative of the postoffice at a designated spot. This was the first carrying of mail by aeroplane in the state. No passengers were carried on account of condition of the track where the start was made.

Christmas passed off very quietly in High Point. With the exception of a few drunks and much drinking nothing alarming happened.

Leroy Earnhardt, an old High Point boy, now located at Jacksonville, Fla., spent the holidays here with the family of his father-in-law, Deputy J. L. Parish.

Walks Through Glass

Friday at the noon hour a negro man deliberately walked through the plate glass door at the new Harris building. The door was closed but the negro thought otherwise as he could see nothing that looked like a barrier to his progress, so he bolted full speed right through the glass which gave away from such a jolt and fell upon the negro's head and to the hard tiling below breaking into many pieces. Strange to relate the intruder only sustained slight wounds on the hands. He came from under the glass a wiser man we presume.

STOLEN!

Some one has stolen my white and tan bull dog. For the thief's benefit I advise that he be kept well chained, for if turned loose he will come home; furthermore he is very particular about his diet; he is very fond of young chickens and fresh eggs; he is partial to special settings or thoroughbred eggs; he is also very fond of children. Will give a reward of 35c for information as to who has this dog, provided parties will agree to keep him; all information kept very quiet.
